

GUIDA ALL'USO SEBINA YOU

Sebina you is the new version of the OPAC (Online Public Access Catalogue), the online catalogue of the Library System of the University of Campania Luigi Vanvitelli, which can be consulted at the following online address: <http://unina2.on-line.it/opac/.do>.

Thanks to this innovative catalogue, users can check the entire holdings not only of the Law library (monographic and periodical) but also of all the other university libraries; they can also see if the material they are interested in is available for loan or even if it is available in digital format.

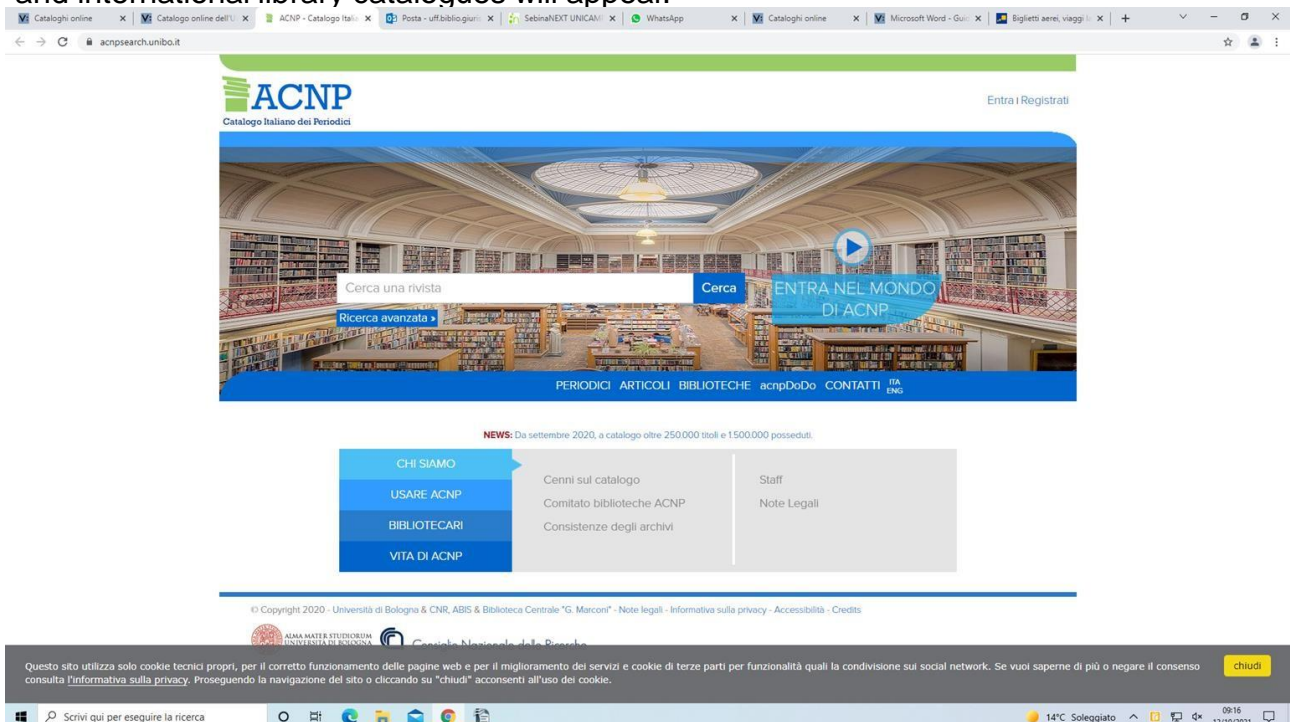

The screenshot shows the library's homepage with a search bar, navigation menu, and sections for 'Ultimi arrivi' (New arrivals) and 'Novità ebook' (New ebooks). The 'Ultimi arrivi' section features book covers and titles such as 'Storia del debito pubblico in Italia', 'Diritto internazionale', 'Storia del Partito fascista', 'Tempi profetici', 'Illeciti delle Nazioni Unite e tutela dell'individuo', 'Diritto e religione: basi e prospettive', 'Il mondo dell'illuminismo', and 'Il nucleo co dei diritti amministrati Europa: un'introdu'. The 'Novità ebook' section displays titles like 'Intelligenza artificiale: protezione dei dati personali e erogazione', 'L'ARRECAMENTO DI MERCATO', 'Decreto Dignità e Carta Costituzionale n. 194 del 2018', 'ANALOGICA', 'IL DECRETO DIGNITÀ', 'LA "MEDIATIONE FORENSE"', and 'Il job act del lavoro e del lavoro'.

From the Sebina homepage, clicking on library system it opens a screen of all the university libraries with a range of useful information for the user (communication with facilities, opening hours and telephone contacts).

If, on the other hand, you click on Other Catalogues, a list of the most important national and international library catalogues will appear.

From the home page, it is also possible to check what the University's latest acquisitions have been, regardless of which library has catalogued the work, whether paper or digital.

In the lower part of the homepage there are icons/links leading to external services, such as the Share Catalogue, the single catalogue of the universities that are members of Share; the Open Archives, with a list of the most important international open archives; the University's subscription Databases, with all the University's digital resources available to the University's institutional users; the University's EDS discovery, which allows integrated access to the available resources, whether books or full-text articles, by typing the topic of interest in a single Google-style search string; and finally the page dedicated to Open Access, which contains all the references to the topic and the transformative contracts. Also on the homepage of the new Sebina you catalogue, users are allowed to register via the login button, which allows them to carry out a whole series of operations relating to lending and book reservations, thus shortening the user's stay in the library.

Sebina you allows the user various forms of search (simple and advanced)

The simplest can be carried out directly from the home page, where it is sufficient to type in the significant words of the topic of interest (e.g. title, author, etc.) and then click on the SEARCH button. Let us give an example by entering the word criminology;

A screen divided into two parts will appear: on the left-hand side, the bibliographic record of the volumes that contain the word 'criminology' in the title or as author; on the right-hand side, you will have a whole series of options that will allow you to refine your search (language, year, library, etc.).

The screenshot shows a web browser window displaying search results for 'criminologia'. The page has a blue header with the search term and a 'Rilevanza' dropdown menu. Below the header, there are four search results, each with a book icon, a title, author, year, and location. The third result, 'COMPENDIO DI CRIMINOLOGIA' by Ponti, Gianluigi (1990), is highlighted with a red underline. To the right of the results is a sidebar titled 'NAVIGA TRA I RISULTATI' with various filters: Tipologia (110), Biblioteca (124), Autore Principale (2), Anno Pubblicazione (4), and Lingua (105). The browser's taskbar at the bottom shows the search bar with the text 'Scrivi qui per eseguire la ricerca' and system icons for temperature and date.

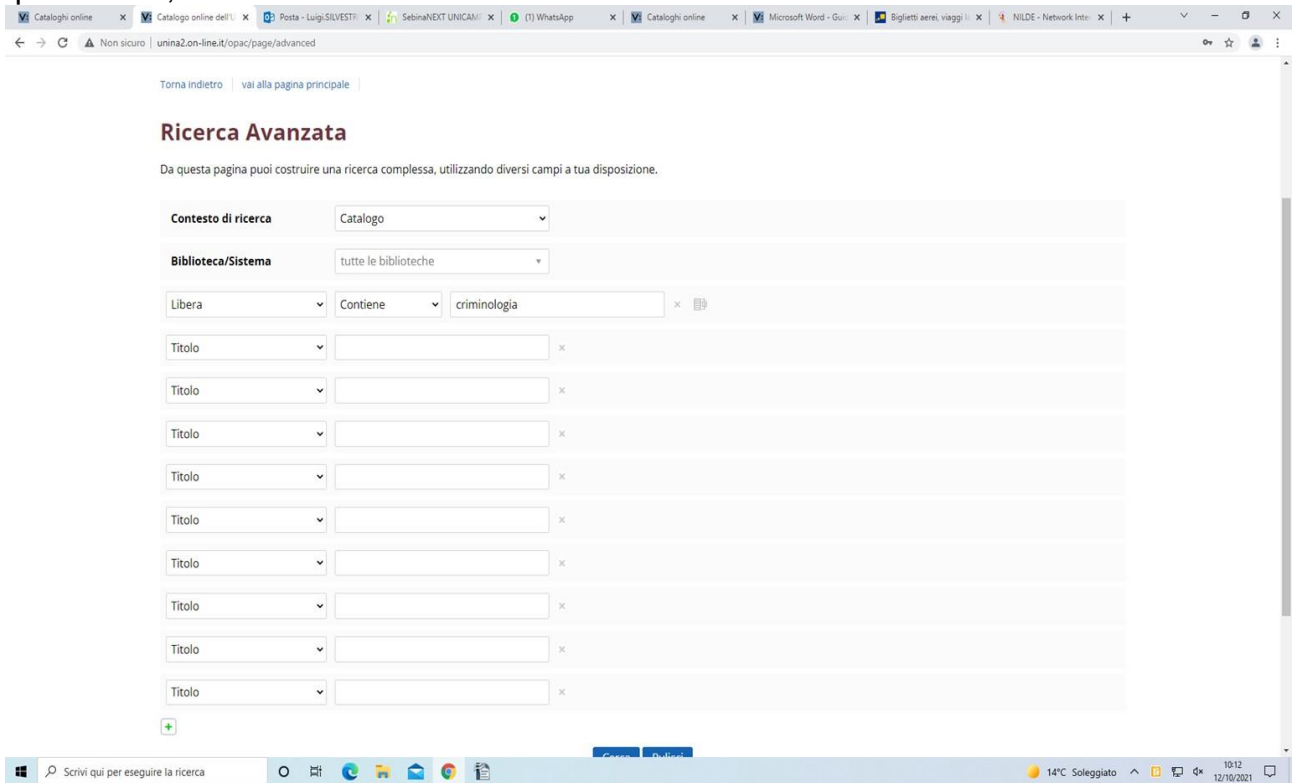

If the volume you are interested in is, for example, the third in our list, 'compendium of criminology', clicking on the title in red will open a new screen with all the useful information on the work, i.e. whether there is a possibility of borrowing the volume or the exact location of the work in the library to which it belongs.

The screenshot shows a web browser window displaying the online catalog of the University of Campania. The page title is 'Catalogo online d'Ateneo'. The main content area features the title 'COMPENDIO DI CRIMINOLOGIA' by Pontì, Gianluigi and Cortina, Raffaello (1990). Below the title, there are tabs for 'Lo trovi in' and 'Scheda'. The 'BIBLIOTECA' section is highlighted as 'BIBLIOTECA DEL DIPARTIMENTO DI GIURISPRUDENZA'. A 'Documento disponibile' section shows 'Richiesta di prestito' and 'Scaffale' options. The 'Inventario' is 4996 and the 'Collocazione' is CONS II.C.7. On the right, a 'NAVIGATORE' sidebar lists related items like '3: Criminologia', '4: Criminologia e società', and 'Proposte di criminologia applicata'. The browser's address bar shows the URL 'unina2.on-line.it/opac/resource/compendio-di-criminologia/VAN0001127'. The Windows taskbar at the bottom shows the date 12/10/2021 and time 09:38.

The advanced search, suitable for those already familiar with the Sebina catalogue, allows more precise and detailed searches by: author, title, ISBN/ISSN, subject, year of

By opening the drop-down menus of the various search fields, which are present by default, further accesses can be displayed and selected.

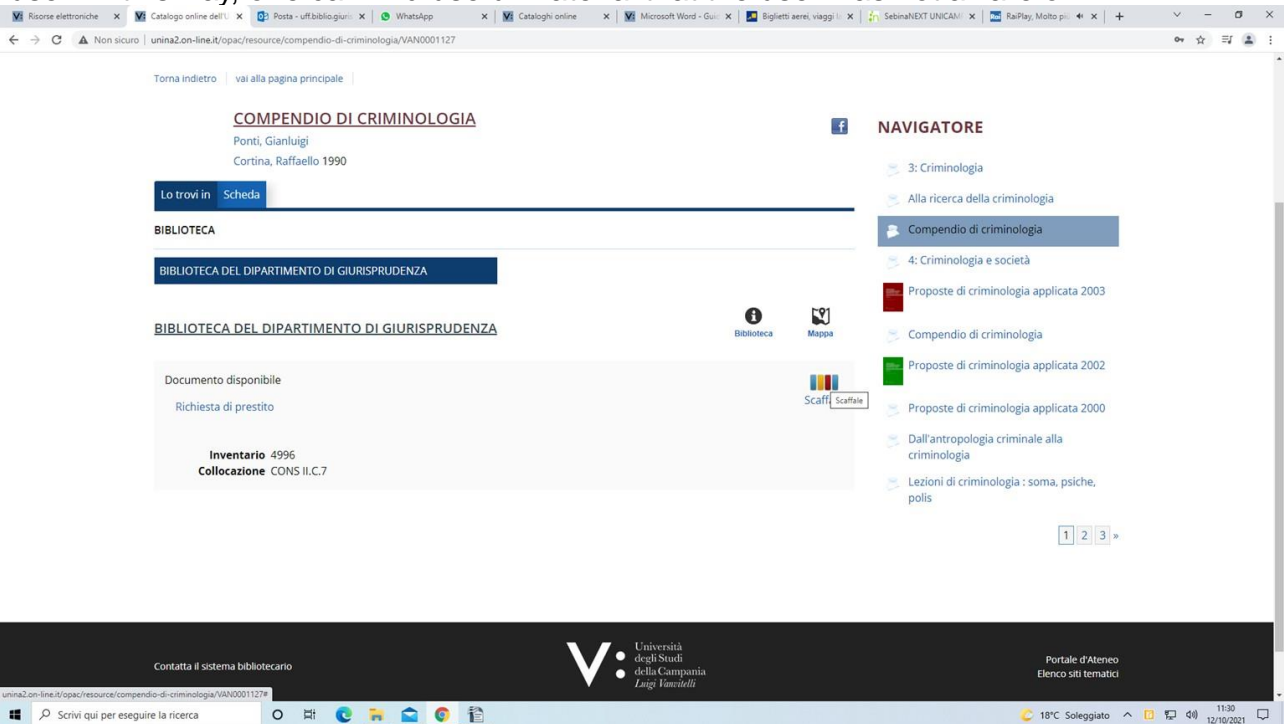

As in the simple search, the results are displayed with their main data and an indication of the library where they can be consulted. Clicking on the individual item will open the complete bibliographic record with also the location data, which allows you to know the availability of the document at that library.

The advanced search allows several search fields to be grouped together and organised using Boolean operators to achieve an even more restricted search.
To set the Boolean operators, click on the 'group trasform' button to the right of the first line.

Another useful function for users provided by Sebina you is the shelf function. This function makes it possible to see books that are placed on the same shelf as the one chosen by the user. In this way, one can find useful material that the user was not aware of.
